AN UNSATISFACTORY REPORT. A Court of Inquiry Into Gen. Miles's

Action May be Ordered. The report of Gen. Miles on the Apache compaign is understood to be unsatisfacas be was directed to do, state exactly what the conditions of the surrender were, nor the conditions of the surrender were, nor does he give any good reasons for accepting a conditional surrender, which was not in accord with the policy of the government, and which amounts practically to a violation of orders. He apparently regards the possession of the hostiles the only object to be attained, and in his report covers up his failure to comply with Gen. Sheridan's requist for full particulars as to the conditions of surrender by argument and illustration, which, when carefully considered, show unpulstakably that he secured the prisoners only upon the condition that their lives should be spared and that they should at once he removed from Arizons.

Their surrender, upon conditions, renders the government powerless to punish them, for Gen. Miles's promises must be kept at all hazards. Even should the civil authorities demand the prisoneraffor trial for certain murders, of which they have complete evidence, the President would be compelled to interpose his authority and insure the safety which was promised them. They exant be tried by civil authorities, by court-martial, or by a military commission, as matters stand now.

It is understood that a court of inquiry into Gen. Miles's action is to be instituted, and upon the decision of this court will depend whether a court-martial will be ordered.

When Gen. Miles returned from his does he give any good reasons for accept-dered.

When Gen. Miles returned from his Apache campaign it was about the time for the preparation of his annual report. Instead of sending a special report covering the features of hiscampaign, he started out to incorporate the entire story in his annual report. After waiting allittle while the Acting Secretary of War sent him a telegram directing him to forward a telegraphic report of his campaign. To this order Gen. Miles paid no attention whatever. Upon the return of the Fresident the Acting Secretary of War presented the case to him, the return of the Fresident the Acting Sec-retary of War presented the case to him, and the President at once dictated a tele-gram to the backward general containing an emohasized request for the report. In reply Gen. Miles sent an abstract of his an-nual report, and this dispatch reached the War Department on the same day as the au-nual report.

INSPECTOR DYER'S REPORT.

Virginia Cattle Suffering from the Texas Fever.

Dr. C. K. Dyer, who, by direction of Commissioner Colman, proceeded to Virginia to investigate the cattle disease prevailing, has sent the following report back from Middleburg: "I learn that on the 14th day of September, 1880, Mr. E. Saying Hard Things Does No Good, Editor National Republican: In late number of your paper Bookbinder takes issue with the public printer and says takes issue with the public printer and says some harsh things. This can do no good, and may do harm. A person should not be selected for discharge because he has prudentially looked ahead and provided for the wants of those dependent upon him. All work for good wages, and it would be a reflection on the office if in such a large number of discharges no worthy person suffered, so do not condemn anyone, my friend Bookbinder, but resolve if you are ever allowed to work in the office again to make a better use of your opportunity; resolve also to use your influence and that of your friends to impress upon members of Congress that they alone are to biame by ordering work and failing to give enough money to bave it done. Impress upon them also the urgent necessity of a deficiency appropriation at once to enable the public printer to take up the work now necessarily abandoned and bring it to completion, that he may be releved from a burden forced upon his predecessor, and the efficiency of the office remain unimpaired. Congress should remember the laborer is worthy of his hire, and that they must not vote for work to be done unless they are willing to vote for money to do it. A FELLOW WORKMAN.

morning opened with a much stronger tone, and the impression that the trunk line matters will be amicably arranged at the presi-dents' meeting next week gained ground. The deal in New York and New England made further progress to-day and notwith standing the fact that several material reac ions occurred the stock is 51 per cent. higher to-night, being alone in closing strong. The morning bours saw a material improvement over the whole list, but after the issue of the bank statement less confidence was displayed and prices became heavy. There was no feature in the afternoon trading beyond the strength in New England. Western Union was active and remained comparatively steady throughout the day. The Vanderbilts, especially New York Central, were strong in the early morning and retained most of the advantage until the close.

The upward movement was not checked until afternoon, when the early advances were generally lost. There was some little improvement in the last hour, but the market closed barely steady.

OR SKIN CANCER.

For seven years I suffered with a cancer on my face. Eight menths ago a friend recommended the new of Switt's Specific and december to make an effort to procurs it. In this I was successful, and began its use. The indusence of the medicine affrat was to somewhat aggravante the sore; but soon the inflammation was allayed, and I began to improve after the first few bottles. My general health has greatly improved. I am stronger, and able to do any kind of work. The cancer on my face began to decrease and the alcur to heal, until there is not a vestige of it left—only a little scar marks the place.

A Wonderful Cure.—Daniel Fletcher, Esq., Gloucester, Mass., writes: "Nearly five years ago, I was taken sick with a disease regarding which the three physicians who attended me were unable to agree. One of the foremost physicians in Boston called it a tumor of the stomach, and treated me for that, nearly killing me with physic; another, a homeopathic physician, thought I had consumption. When taken sick, I weighted 157 pounds. I suffered from a heavy cough, night-sweats, kidney troubles, oto, and was reduced so rapidly that my physicians gave me up. They were unable to help not in the least. At that time I weighted but ninety pounds, and not in the least. I picked up one of your memorandum books on the floor of the hotel where I was boarding, and after reading it I began taking your 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and the first bottle brought me around so that I could walk around the room all day. I soon began to build up, and gained so rapidly that it astomished me. I have taken no other medicine since then, and have used perhaps twenty bottles in all of this medicine. I stopped taking it in Angust, one year ago. I feel that it has saved my life. I now weight about 169 pounds, and I think, and my friends with me, that this medicine saved my life. It certainly is worth its weight, in gold, and I consider it a wonderful remedy from its effect in euring all my aliments."
